A LARGE ENGLISH SHIP'S MODEL OF A LATE 18TH CENTURY FRIGATE, possibly HMS Agamemnon with amendments to enable her to float to her marks as a pond yacht, 20th Century, of timber, painted resin, cotton cloth and cord, the full-rigged ship of the line in sail, with three main-masts square-rigged, two jib sails to the bowsprit, gallant, top and main sails to the fore and main masts, a gallant and top sail above the spanker aft, the flat deck from bow-to-stern dates the frigate to the late eighteenth century - with detailed modelling of the ship's wheel, deck-housing, life-boats and gunwales, below decks the model's hull is void but the exterior purports to a ship of 34guns on two gun-decks - unusual for a smaller frigate,

DIMENSIONS: 142cm (56") High, 40cm (15^{3⁄4}") Wide, 200cm (78^{3⁄4}") Long, including cradle

STOCK CODE: 48841

HISTORY

This model ship was a barn find and was bought as part of a larger LASSCO clearance.. She had remained uncovered for many years and was cob-webbed and dusty. LASSCO has given her an initial clean and found remarkably little damage to the rigging. The buyer might choose to give her a more rigorous clean. The keel has fixings for a keel weight to enable her to float correctly - we did not find that weight. She is presented in a bespoke cradle.
