A PAIR OF ART DECO COPPERLIGHT GLAZED DOORS

early 20th Century, thought to be salvaged from an Oxford institution, each with a central rectangular panel of rectilinear glazing within a timber frame - the vertical glazing bars forming interlocked arcades in the upper section,

DIMENSIONS: 213cm (83^{3/4}") High, 152cm (59^{3/4}") Wide, 6cm (2^{1/4}") Deep

PRICE: £1,950 the pair

STOCK CODE: 45747

HISTORY

Layers of old paint to the timber frame. No breaks in the glazing. Two pairs available - please Make Enquiry for pictures of second pair.

Remains of pin-hinge arrangement, made to swing both directions independently - so no closing rebate (which could be cut in) - may be best to rehang on butt-hinges. Could potentially be hung as singles.
