A PAIR OF LATE VICTORIAN CAST IRON ARCHITECTURAL BRACKETS

probably from a railway or industrial context, each triangular bracket pierced with foliate scrollwork,

DIMENSIONS: 76cm (30") High, 75cm (29½") Wide, 4cm (1½") Thick

STOCK CODE: 45839

HISTORY

These are intended to support a flat soffit or projecting balcony or console – they appear to have been used as a veranda. They will need sturdy anchoring points for the cantilever. They could potentially be inverted to provide a flat top-surface in a console format.
