A RARE PARCEL OF SALVAGED ENGLISH ELM FLOORBOARDS,

18th Century or earlier,

beautifully figured wide-board timbers, of various widths,

DIMENSIONS: -10cm (-4") Wide, -100cm (-39¹/₄") Long, See Notes for measurement inventory

STOCK CODE: 44453

HISTORY

In the right hands this rare parcel of old English floorboards will make a glorious floor. Carefully trimmed and forgivingly laid, scarfed in, patched and waxed this warm traditional board rewards with a peerless character finish. Ideal for renovation in period properties - Medieval through to Georgian - old elm boards are very hard to find.

As laid out in the photographs the area covered is 5.65 x 3.78 m = 21.36m

1 long board measures 420 x 34cm

12 boards measure 335 x (24-34)cm

7 boards measure 268 x (24-34)cm

6 other short boards (3 of these evidently match-boarding)

Total: 26 boards Coverage about 20sq m allowing for losses.

Commensurate with old elm floorboards: various cuts and losses, old woodworm damage, one board entirely split, others with splits abrasions and warps, some still pierced with handcut nails, others with remains of old paint.
