A SMALL BLUE AND WHITE TRANSFER PRINTED GOLD FISH BOWL.

The late nineteenth century European made porcelain bowl, produced to mimic a Chinese gold fish bowl. The wide rim designed to stop fish escaping, is decorated with blue flower heads, above a bulbous body decorated with layered flower designs. The mark on the base in the form of a simple windmill could indicate the piece was produced in Holland.

DIMENSIONS: 11.5cm (4½") High, 14.5cm (5¾") Wide
