HISTORY

This figure is often seen as one of four - the four seasons - but happily work as a single statue. The model has been in continuous production for over 100years - LASSCO usually has a selection of them for sale. Being cast in a marble-based material, they are resilient and this figure is known to be decades old. She has graced a beautiful garden in the Chilterns for many years and picked up pleasant weathering, lichen, moss etc. and at one point, a long time ago a coat of paint. She is offered with the pedestal we found her on.
