

THREE PIGEONS LASSCO Three Pigeons Milton Common, Oxfordshire OX9 2JN +44 (0)1844 277188 3pigeons@lassco.co.uk

BRUNSWICK HOUSE 30 Wandsworth Road, London SW8 2LG +44 (0) 20 7394 2100 brunswick@lassco.co.uk

JOAN MIRÓ, LITHOGRAPHS

Lithographs showing Miro's carborundum technique.

In 1967, printer Robert Dutrou introduced Joan Miró to a new printmaking technique: Silicon carbide engraving. More commonly known as carborundum, this technique became the artist's final technical development in his graphic work.

DIMENSIONS: 39cm ($15^{\frac{1}{4}}$) High, 33cm (13°) Wide, 2cm ($0^{\frac{1}{4}}$) Deep

PRICE: £180

STOCK CODE: P01060 E

HISTORY

Lithograph published in 1976 for Adrien Maeght. Mounted in cream and framed in natural oak. Le magnétiseur – orange