

SNAKES ENGRAVINGS PUBLISHED C1860

Featuring original hand-colour

Charles Henry Dessalines d'Orbigny was a French botanist and geologist specializing in the Tertiary of France. He was the younger brother of French naturalist and South American explorer, Alcide d'Orbigny. At the National Museum of Natural History in Paris, d'Orbigny identified many of the flowering plant species returned to France from his brother's natural history collecting journeys through South America.

DIMENSIONS: 39cm (15<sup>3/4</sup>" ) High, 30cm (11<sup>3/4</sup>" ) Wide, 3cm (1<sup>1/4</sup>" ) Deep

PRICE: £160 each

STOCK CODE: P01048 Pl. 13

HISTORY

Original hand-coloured engravings published by Renard & Martinet of Paris. Presented in gilt shot type frame.