"THE BEAUTY OF THE HEAVENS: A PICTORIAL DISPLAY OF THE ASTRONOMICAL PHENOMENA OF THE UNIVERSE" BY CHARLES BLUNT, 'AQUARIUS',

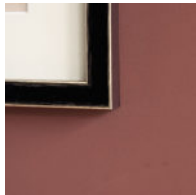

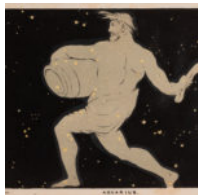

Original 1842 aquatints with hand-colour.

In the mid-19th century, Home Education had become very popular for the masses and lecturer, Charles Blunt seeing a gap in the market came up with these illustrations. Blunt who specialised in astronomy and natural philosophy, saw the need for a series of 'accurate yet popular' plates illustrating the known Universe. These hand-finished aquatints prints were based on Blunt's own drawings, depicting celestial and astrological subjects.
