WAPPING WHARF HARDWOOD BOARDS.

Victorian Reclaimed Hardwood Flooring In Mahogany, Elm and Oak. Prices are per square metre.

A magnificently weathered batch of hardwood board profoundly evocative of the London Docks. Reclaimed from Telford's Yard woolens warehouse on The Highway in the Wapping district of the London Docks. These boards would have been selected for their strength and toughness as the primary flooring of the early Victorian warehouse buildings. The boards display a handsomely battered face with a patina of a century's hard use. The workaday mixture of Elm, Oak and Mahogany is testament to the sensible, practical replacement of redundant boards down the years of hard use with whatever was hardest and best.
